Choices

Discuss and complete the following questions with your peers after you have watched or read the transcripts of the R&E Weekly segments.

1. Describe the individuals in each segment. What are their common characteristics? What is similar about the choices they have made with regard to life purpose? How does each person find peace? What brings each person happiness? How does pleasure materialize for each person?
2. What drives their choices to take on important and meaningful causes? What are their spiritual/religious, social, personal motivators? Incentives? Rewards?
3. What fulfillment do these individuals derive from their missions? How does their work and commitment support their spiritual, religious and/or personal journeys?
4. What does one have to do to pursue or secure happiness? Peace? Pleasure? Is each driven/fortified by worldly goods? Can a life of wealth and a directed purpose toward healing the world make for happiness? Does one need to make sacrifices? Does one need to have a spiritual base?
