Religious Diversity: To Live and Die in Gwinnett County, by Steve Prothero

<http://www.pbs.org/wnet/religionandethics/week534/webexclusive.html>

Guiding Questions:

1. How do Muslim death rites differ from the death rites of Christians in Gwinnett County, Georgia? What problems do these differences create?
2. What compromise was worked out to solve the problems?
3. Would you agree that "the wall separating church and state resembles a modest picket fence more than the Great Wall of China"?
4. Do you think that if Americans get to know Muslims and learn about Islam, tensions between Christianity and Islam will diminish?
