

Internet and Right-to-Privacy Issues Student Organizer 3

Directions: Divide the following questions equally among the members of your group. Research answers to the question you've been assigned and be prepared to speak about them in class. Be sure to note the websites or other resources you used to answer your question.

1. What laws exist to protect Internet users from having their personal information (such as home address, home phone number, and credit card information) shared with or sold to databases without their consent?
2. What laws exist to protect Internet users from slander or from being bullied online?
3. What laws exist to protect you from Internet users who wish to harm you (such as sexual predators)?
4. What laws exist to protect your personal e-mail and IM conversations from being read by other people?
